

MARGARET BUMGARNER knows the best way to motivate people is by personal contact.

When Margaret became involved with the Republican Women's Club and the Republican Executive Committee around 1983, she began a new life of personal contact and becoming well-know locally, statewide, and even nationally for GETTING THE REPUBLICAN WORD OUT AND FOR GETTING THE JOB DONE.

1994 Margaret was honored at the NCFRW Tribute to Women for her countless hours and devotion to the ideals of the Republican Party and the NCFRW (and she continues to spread the word and encourage others to become involved).

2000 Margaret was selected to be chairperson of the donor program in North Carolina for the NCFRW. This program provides those outside the membership with the opportunity to support work of the NCFRW.

North Carolina Citizens for a Sound Economy (NCCSE) honored Margaret at their 2001 Super Activist Awards dinner for her untiring volunteer hours and dedication.

She is past president of the Alexander County Republican Women and has served many positions in the Republican Women In Action as well as president.

If you want the job done, call on Margaret. She has done about everything from almost all precinct jobs, introducing candidates over the counties, working at the polls, etc.

Any person would be envious of the personal notes and letters (many handwritten), phone calls, pictures, etc., of some of her Republican friends she has met and who inspired her to work hard to get Republicans elected to make a better America. A few are: President George W. Bush, The Honorable James T. Broyhill, Elizabeth Dole, Sue Myrick, Richard Burr, Mike Easley, Austin Allran, to name a few. Her memories include the late Jack Hawke, Jim Holshouser, Cass Ballengr, John Brown, and many others.

For many years Margaret registered more Republicans to vote, sold the most fund raising tickets (for both the women and the executive committee), and went door to door with candidates. She very often sold more tickets to Democrats and Unaffiliated than to Republicans.

She is well known for her kindnesses to all people and her Godly faith is apparent in her daily life, good deeds and sharing with others.

Margaret is no longer the timid little lady she was before her introduction to the Republican Party. She knows from experience that you CAN accomplish what you set out to do if you put forth enough effort, believe in yourself and truly believe in what you are doing.

AND MARGARET TRULY BELIEVES IN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY
